Here in exclusivity the amazing Cartier Odyssey video (L'Odyssée de Cartier) a three-and-a-half minute short film that chronicles the brand's 165-year history, retracing the cultural influences and travels that played a special part in inspiring the House's creativity through the eyes of the iconic panther.

Directed by Bruno Aveillan, the film was two years in the making with a team of 50 talented people from around the world, including directors, set designers and musicians, all working with the same passion that inspires Cartier's artisans.
